Good evening. I’ve known Sarah since we were six, when she bit me at a birthday party.

When they met, neither of them could cook. Now one of them can.

So please raise your glasses —

[joke about the boat?]